February is a great month for Matthew's gospel – 28 chapters for 28 days. We launched into Proverbs for January, to start the year off exploring wisdom, and I've enjoyed hearing Solomon challenge me, one more time, to pursue knowledge, understanding and wisdom. I take his challenges very personally for this new year! Now I want to move back into the gospel of Matthew, to observe the life and ministry of Jesus through Matthew's eyes and narrative. Jesus is my hero; my mentor; my model; my Lord and savior . . . and how much more?!?! I think my Everything! Matthew reports the life and ministry of Jesus in a totally Matthew way, and I always enjoy the narrative, and I always grow, so I move into these reports with great expectation of forward motion in my walk with Jesus.

My prayer, as I read a gospel narrative, is that the Holy Spirit would help me grow more into the image of Jesus as I read these words about the Holy and only-begotten Son of God – that He would lead me to grow more into Him whose image I'm being called into.

Thanks for joining me! Devotional reading is indispensable in growing and maturing in our walk with God!

Shalom,

D.P.
